CATALINA HIKE & KAYAK

Catalina Island is 54 miles (87 km) of rugged coastline, open countryside and numerous private beaches. The Island's remote coves offer a sense of seclusion making this privately guided adventure an ideal weekend getaway.

DAY 1: SAN PEDRO, CALIFORNIA / AVALON, CATALINA ISLAND

We begin with a helicopter transfer over to the Island where we commence our first day of hiking from one of the Island's highest points. Navigating around the southern tip of the Island we will enjoy spectacular views, as well as the chance encounter with a herd of buffalo. Our first night is spent at our camp on the western side of the Island in a secluded cove, enjoying local cuisine and a chance to swim in the ocean.

DAY 2: CATALINA ISLAND

Today we depart along the Trans-Catalina trail to Two Harbors for lunch, before loading up our kayaks and beginning the next phase of our adventure. Previous kayaking experience is recommended. We conclude the second day by paddling down the eastern coast and into our camp for the evening. With an early arrival into camp there will be plenty of snorkelling opportunities.

DAY 3: AVALON, CATALINA ISLAND / SAN PEDRO

This morning, we continue our journey by kayak, paddling back to Pebbly Beach. We have the opportunity to enjoy amazing kelp forests, beautiful sandy beaches and picture postcard views of Avalon, on our final leg of this 'Best of Catalina Island' adventure.
